The Toolkit includes five summer program catalog samples from three different school districts. These samples are comprehensive guides of the district-sponsored and co-sponsored programs provided for students during the summer. Each sample catalog includes an overview of the district's summer learning approach, program descriptions, schedules, administration contacts, eligibility requirements, and enrollment procedures.
Discover the many summer learning activities that Dallas ISD and Dallas City of Learning have to offer.
Dear Dallas Families,

Summer is an exciting time—one filled with fun and exploration! It can also be a time for your children to learn a new skill, improve their reading ability or explore the arts.

Dallas ISD and the City of Dallas have partnered under the umbrella Dallas City of Learning to bring Dallas families dozens of FREE and FUN summer activities for children of all ages. This partnership is managed by the nonprofit organization Big Thought.

Whether your child is interested in robotics, dance, sports or literature, we have an activity to keep him or her engaged and excited about learning all summer long! This “Discover Summer” catalog is a one-stop-shop for parents to learn about activities and programs right in their own backyard.

We invite you to explore this catalog, mark the pages that interest you and your child, and decide together which activity or learning program is best suited for your child. You can also explore www.dallascityoflearning.org for these and other summer opportunities.

We hope you have the best summer ever discovering the opportunities that Dallas ISD and Dallas City of Learning have to offer!

Sincerely,

Michael Hinojosa
Superintendent of Dallas ISD

Mike Rawlings
Mayor of Dallas

CEO, Big Thought
How to Discover Summer

Step 1: Locate Your Geographic Area.
Start by locating summer activities and programs in your geographic area. The Discover Summer catalog is divided into four geographic quadrants: Northeast, Southeast, Northwest and Southwest.

Step 2: Scan the list of Summer Activities and Programs.
After locating your geographic area, scan the list of summer activities and programs, which are listed in alphabetical order. Activities and camps include athletics and sports activities, college and career programs, culinary arts and fine arts experiences, leadership activities, literacy programs and STEM camps.

Step 3: Highlight Activities and Programs of Interest.
Highlight the activities and programs that interest you and your child. Be sure to note the camp dates, locations, hours of operation and the websites where you can find more information!

Step 4: Enroll Your Child.
Once you select your top activities or programs, visit their websites for contact information so you can call or send an email to get your child enrolled. Be sure to ask questions like: “What should my child wear?” “Will breakfast and lunch be served?” “What should my child bring with him or her?”

Step 5: Get Ready for Fun!
Once you complete enrollment and registration, mark your calendar and get ready for your child to have the best summer ever!

CAMP METALHEAD CREATIVE ARTS CENTER OF DALLAS
Camp MetalHead is a free summer program providing relevant job skills training and quality arts instruction in welding and jewelry making. Students gain impressive job skills while learning welding, belt sanding, sand blasting and grinding in metal arts and small metals. Students will use tools such as oxyacetylene torches, arc welders, pneumatic hammers, jewelry torches, grinders, polishers, and more. Field trips will feature visits to artists' studios and local job sites to show how these tools are used in both environments. Camp MetalHead couples arts instruction with job skills training, while expanding students' abilities in a fun and active way. Over the course of the six-week summer program, students will develop artistic skills, enhance their creativity and thirst for learning and gain knowledge about future careers. Students are referred by Dallas ISD teachers and guidance counselors and area nonprofits, such as Wesley-Rankin and Café Momentum.

FORGOTTEN PEOPLE ENRICHMENT TOUR
(FIT AND FAITHFUL LIVING)
This camp will introduce the younger generation to slavery and plantation life in the deep south by visiting two plantations, a church, and a college in historic Natchitoches, Louisiana. Why this trip? Black history, which focuses on the contributions of African-Americans, should remain in the minds of our young people. Join us as we honor historic leaders of the Black community, learn how to be better stewards of the privileges we’ve gained, highlight the best of Black history & culture, create awareness, and help students develop a deep understanding of African-Americans in the U.S.
